Hope Man to Head Drive for Fulbright

By BILL SIMMONS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., and his Republican opponent, Dr. Kenneth Jones of Little Rock, lowered guns on one another in separate news conferences in Little Rock Monday.

Here's how the charges went: Jones said Fulbright's judgment of the Cuban situation was unsound and that the senator's voting record was that of a liberal. Fulbright fired back that Jones' information was erroneous and completely groundless, and he said his record will stand for itself.

Jones said the current campaign is between a liberal and a conservative.

Fulbright said the campaign is between a Democrat and a Republican.

Jones said he will wait until Fulbright states his position on issues before outlining his own beliefs.

Fulbright said apparently Jones wants to wait until he can come out against every Fulbright stand. On another front, the state Democratic party opened a campaign headquarters in Little Rock to support members who have Republican opposition in the general election Nov. 6.

Aside from Fulbright, these include Gov. Orval E. Faubus, opposed by Willis Ricketts of Fayetteville; Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., opposed by Warren Lieblong of Pine Bluff; and Rep. James Trimble, opposed by Cy Carney Jr. of Fayetteville.

In addition, 21 Democratic nominees for the state House of Representatives and two for the state Senate who have GOP opponents. Republicans contend Democrats are worried about the general election and with the opening of the headquarters as evidence of concern.

Fulbright announced the appointment Monday of a campaign manager—James H. Pilkinton of Hope, a former chancery judge. Fulbright said Pilkinton's influence in south Arkansas would help carry counties he had most trouble with in the primary.

Early Monday Jones challenged Fulbright to state his views on the Cuban situation.

Fulbright said he told President Kennedy in a private memorandum.

Four Youths Sentenced at Ashdown

ASHDOWN, Ark. (AP) — Four Fort Smith youths pleaded guilty Monday to accessory roles in the wounding of Ashdown Marshal Elmer Ross last Aug. 4.

Frank Edward Wynne, 18; James Lee Bolin, 19; Gerald Edward Sanders, 18; and Nathan Ray Bolin, 17, changed their pleas from innocent after testimony was concluded in a trial before Circuit Judge Bobby Steele.

Steele sentenced Wynne and the elder Bolin to five years in prison with two years suspended. Sanders and the younger Bolin were ordered held in the Arkansas Boys Training School for an indefinite time.

The four were charged as accessories to assault with intent to kill. The youth who fired the gun, Freddie Bynum, 18, also of Fort Smith, fatally shot himself as he was about to be arrested.

Ross, 45, was shot after he stopped a stolen car in which the youths were riding.

Stephens Has Support for Speakership

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Grant County Rep. W. R. (Witt) Stephens has been assured of support from 10 of 11 members of the Pulaski County House delegation if he wants to run for speaker of the House in 1965.

Pulaski Rep. J. H. Cottrell confirmed Monday that Stephens and the Pulaski group met last week to discuss the speakership. Cottrell would not say which Pulaski representative refused to support Stephens.

Cottrell said Stephens merits Pulaski County support because of his home and business are here and he understands problems of the county and Little Rock.

Stephens, president of the Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., and a staunch supporter of Gov. Orval E. Faubus, will start his second legislative term next January.

Little River Rep. Marion Crank is speaker-designate for the 1963 session. He collected pledges of votes during the 1961 General Assembly. If Stephens wants the job in 1965 he will collect pledges during the coming legislature.

Official election of a speaker is handled immediately after the House opens for business in January.

Youth to Undergo Third Operation

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — Young Bill Bradley will return to Houston, Tex., Sept. 25 for the third in a series of operations designed to restore vision lost when he was struck by lightning last April.

Two operations in July enabled Bill to see again and he now has 40 to 50 per cent normal vision.

The third operation is scheduled for Sept. 27. Doctors plan to operate on both eyes. If they have to work on one eye at a time, another operation will be set Oct. 4.

Bill, 9, was trying out for a Pee Wee League baseball team at the time of the accident. The bolt burned off hair and eyebrows and burst his ear drums. The ear drums healed, but cataracts formed over his eyes, requiring the operations.

While in Houston, Bill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley, was a special guest of the Houston Colt 45 baseball team.

Connection Fee Dropped by Directors

The Board of City directors last night took action to rescind the charge of $50 for a connection to the city sewer system. The charge of $50 for connecting to the sewer system has been in existence for a number of years, but the Board of Directors felt that since a large part of the old mains are being replaced and paid for by revenues of the system that the $50 connection charge is no longer necessary.

The Board also accepted deeds to property providing an extension of Cedar Drive in the Hills of Hope for a distance of two blocks, from 9th to 11th Street. The petition for opening this street had been previously presented to the Planning Commission and was recommended by the group.

Ray Vocom, Fire Chief and Fire Marshal, presented pictures and descriptions of 15 dilapidated structures with recommendations that they be condemned and the property cleaned up. The Board of Directors authorized the City Attorney to proceed with condemnation proceedings.

A petition of Rufus Crawford to close "L" Street between Roselle and Wilkins Street in the Haynes Addition to the City of Hope was referred to the Planning Commission.

The Board of Directors authorized the city manager to work with the State Highway Dept. and the County Judge in the construction of a better turning arrangement connecting Rocky Mound Road with Highway 67. The present arrangement for getting from one of these roads to the other creates a dangerous traffic hazard at the intersection of Highway 4 and 67.

The present plan is to connect Highway 67 and Rocky Mound Road just east of the Highway 4 intersection with Highway 67 in order that this turning movement would not interfere with traffic at the present intersection, which is already pretty complicated.

The Board of Directors also examined a new type of school zone sign of fluorescent colors and decided to try the new type sign in at least one school location to determine its effectiveness. The sign can be made by the machine the city now owns and with which the Fire Dept. has made all of the street name signs. If the new sign proves to be more effective, the Board of Directors plans to use it for marking all school zones.

Fugitive Spy, Soblen, Dies From Overdose

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen died today.

A hospital spokesman said death came to the fugitive spy at 10:40 a. m.—4:40 a. m. EST—in the ward where he had lain unconscious since last Thursday.

LONDON (AP) — Fugitive spy Robert A. Soblen died in a London hospital today and escaped the life sentence that awaited him in a U.S. federal prison for wartime espionage for the Soviet Union.

Soblen, died in Hillingdon Hospital, where he had lain unconscious since last Thursday. He had taken an overdose of barbiturates just before he was removed from Brixton Prison for deportation to the United States.

Dr. Cyril Barnes, who was in charge of Soblen's treatment, told newsmen Soblen's death was due not to the drugs he had taken but rather to "exhaustion following convulsions and damage to the brain, presumably caused by hemorrhage."

Barnes explained that Soblen had taken a quick-acting barbiturate and "it had been eliminated from the body chemically 24 hours before death."

Barnes said Soblen's wife, Dr. Dina Soblen, a psychiatrist like her husband, was at his bedside when he died. She flew to London and had been at the hospital with him since Friday.

"Just before 10 a. m. there was a severe turn for the worse," Barnes said. "Death did not occur suddenly, but came as his strength gradually failed."

Later, Soblen's wife was admitted to the hospital as a patient. A spokesman said she was being treated for shock.

The death of the 61-year-old New York psychiatrist ended a 10-week battle to escape deportation to the United States, where he faced a life sentence as a wartime spy for the Soviet Union.

Soblen took an overdose of barbiturates apparently just before he was put in an ambulance last Thursday to be taken to a plane for the United States.

En route to London Airport he lapsed into unconsciousness in the ambulance. At the airport he was transferred to another ambulance and rushed to nearby Hillingdon Hospital.

He never regained consciousness, and on Saturday he developed convulsions which persisted. His doctors said this was evidence of brain damage, apparently resulting from a shortage of oxygen. The doctors explained the overdose of barbiturates reduced the supply of oxygen to the brain and probably caused a brain hemorrhage.

Soblen was a physician afflicted with an incurable disease; a naturalized American convicted of biting the hand that gave him shelter; a Communist who admitted support of the left wing in politics throughout World War II. He denied vehemently that he ever engaged in espionage, "or anything remotely connected with it."

But he was convicted by a U.S. District Court in New York July 13, 1961, of turning over secret data to Soviet agents over a span of two decades, including wartime information from the New York headquarters of the Office of Strategic Services. He was sentenced to life in prison, though the penalty might have been death.

American appeals judges and the U.S. Supreme Court considered the proof ironclad. Soblen was denied a new trial and the Supreme Court refused to review his case.

That was the background of Soblen's flight last June 25 to Israel where, as a Jew, he vainly claimed the right to a haven under the Israeli Law of Return. Israel arrested him on suspicion of entering with false documents—the Canadian passport of a dead brother—and expelled him.

Conference to Discuss Blindness

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A five-day conference on problems of blindness opened Monday with 23 rehabilitation counselors from 23 states in attendance.

The conference programs calls for lectures in the morning with workshops in the afternoon. States represented are Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Texas, Georgia, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma and South Dakota.

SAC Tanker Hits Mountain, 44 Are Killed

By KEN JACKSON

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—All 44 persons aboard a Strategic Air Command jet tanker plane apparently were killed when the KC135 plowed into a fog-shrouded ravine on 5,271-foot Mt. Kit Carson about 20 miles northeast of here Monday.

Thirty-three bodies had been recovered when nightfall halted the search of the 500-yard deep ravine.

"It's the worst sight I've ever seen," said a highway patrolman. Aboard the plane were 39 Air Force men, all members of the 28th Bomb Wing at Ellsworth Air Force Base, S.D.; one civilian and four crewmen.

The tanker, based at Ellsworth, was carrying the airman to Fairchild Air Force Base near here, where they were to stay while Ellsworth runways were repaired. The jet was only 10 minutes from its destination when it crashed.

Col. Floyd R. Cressman of Fairchild, one of the first to view the wreckage, said the pilot apparently tried to pull up the tanker at the last minute. Visibility was near zero at the time.

Two volunteer searchers and a son of one of them found the wreckage, guided by the smell of smoke.

Bert Smith, Irving Hamann and his son, Wayne, all from Spokane, started searching after they had heard a report the plane was missing and apparently down in the Mt. Spokane-Mt. Kit Carson area.

"We decided to work our way down the steep slope," said Smith. "And as we did, the smell of smoke got stronger."

"Finally, we came across the first of the wreckage. It was smashed to pieces. Then we saw three bodies on the ground—all badly burned."

Smith and Hamanns went to the nearby ranch of Barbara Rainwater and telephoned officers.

"I'm glad we didn't look and farther than we did," Smith said. "I couldn't have looked any more."

A tandem tire, lodged against a pine tree, was the biggest piece of the plane intact.

Arkansas Balloon Found in Maine

Russia Warns U.S. Attack on Cuba May Mean a Nuclear War

Cubans Claim Attack by a Pirate Ship

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio charged today a ship which allegedly attacked Cuban and British freighters off the north coast of Cuba came from the United States.

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana radio said today a Cuban freighter and a British cargo ship have been attacked by what the broadcast labeled a pirate ship.

No mention was made of casualties or the extent of damage.

The broadcast, monitored in Key West, said the ships were fired on off the northern coast of Cuba, but did not specify the time.

The Cuban vessel, identified as the San Pascual, was hit 18 times and eight shots whistled through the crew's cabin, the radio said.

The British ship, the name of which sounded like "New Land," took 13 hits, the Havana account said.

The British vessel may have been the Trafalgar Steamship Co. sugar cargo freighter New Lane. In London, Trafalgar said the New Lane left Havana Monday night under charter. The company said it did not know the 7,043-ton ship's destination because the charter had been arranged by its agents for the Caribbean area.

Havana radio said the Cuban vessel was carrying a load of molasses, the British freighter a load of sugar for Socialist countries.

Calling the alleged incident "a cowardly attack against the Cuban government," the broadcast said a second British ship—with a name which sounded like "Apple Sultan"—escaped the attack because it was delayed in reaching the area.

The radio did not elaborate on its designation of the alleged attacker as a pirate ship.

The report came in the wake of an offshore shelling of Havana Aug. 24 by anti-Castro Cubans. The youth who led the Aug. 24 attack said last week that ships with Communist flags would be considered military targets. Juan Manuel Salva, the attack leader, made that statement to newsmen in Caracas, Venezuela.

Enrollment Up

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Dr. Carey V. Stahler, president of Little Rock University, said Monday LRU's enrollment, now 1,600, apparently will set a record this year. LRU, a private college, had 1,543 students last year.

Circus Gets Back Load of Snakes

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—King Bros. Circus had its snakes back today.

A van carrying the circus's reptile exhibit was located Monday in Thornton, about 61 miles off course. It left Hot Springs Saturday night for Pine Bluff, where the circus is showing this week.

George Gaines, the truck driver, said he apparently took a wrong turn and then ran out of gas. A helper walked 22 miles to a service station.

The 33 foot van carried an assortment of snakes, including a 24-foot python.

China Claims U2 Flight Made by U. S.

By JOHN RODERICK

TOKYO (AP)—Red China claimed two U.S. planes flew over its territory today and issued what it called its 213th warning against such "provocations."

The Communist New China News Agency report did not identify the type of American planes or say whether any attempt was made to shoot them down—as in the case of a Chinese Nationalist U2 plane claimed to have been down Sunday over the China mainland.

The agency said one U.S. plane intruded into Red China over Chengsu Islands in Chekiang Province for three minutes. The other plane was accused of flying over Yungshing Island of Kwangtung Province for nine minutes.

The Communist propaganda machine hammered at the United States about the flight of the American-built U2 plane piloted by a Chinese Nationalist reportedly shot down.

But neither the Nationalists nor the U.S. government gave any indication they would halt Nationalist reconnaissance flights over the mainland.

Murder Charged to Booneville Man

BOONEVILLE (AP) — County Prosecutor J. H. Evans filed a charge of first degree murder Monday against Weldon Moses, 40, of Booneville.

Moses was arrested Sunday in connection with the fatal shooting of James Melvin Shackelford, 21, of Booneville.

The shooting occurred at 2 p. m. Sunday at the home of Auburn Houston of Booneville, Evans said. Shackelford was shot five times with a .38 caliber revolver.

Can't Ignore Provocations by Amercia

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government warned the United States today that an attack on Cuba would be the beginning of a war that might turn into a world nuclear war.

In a statement read to a special Foreign Office news conference, the Soviet government accused the United States of staging provocations "which might plunge the world into the disaster of a universal world war with the use of thermonuclear weapons."

"One cannot now attack Cuba and expect that the aggressor will be free from punishment for this attack," the statement continued. "If such an attack is made, this will be the beginning of unleashing war."

The statement appealed to the United States "to display common sense, not to loose its self-control and soberly to assess what its actions might lead to if it unleashes war."

It said the Soviets would not follow the path of the United States in calling up 150,000 reservists.

But the Soviet government, it continued, "considers it to be its duty to remain watchful in this situation and order the Defense Ministry as well as the command of the Soviet army to take all measures to put out fighting forces into the highest degree of fighting readiness."

"This is exclusively a precautionary measure. On our side we shall do everything not to violate peace."

The statement added an appeal to all nations to raise their voices against the alleged aggressive plans of the United States and to prevent the "American aggressors" from starting a war.

The statement declared that the Soviet Union is sending military supplies and military technicians to Cuba but is not establishing a base there.

"We state and we repeat," the statement said, "that if war is unleashed, if an aggressor attacks one or another state, and this state turns to us for help, then the Soviet Union has the possibility of giving aid from its own territory, to any peace loving state, and not only to Cuba."

"And let no one doubt that the Soviet Union will give such aid."

In the statement, the Soviet government also declared it wants a settlement of the Berlin question and a liquidation of the occupation regime in the divided city.

"The occupation regime must be liquidated, and it shall be liquidated," the statement said.

Pair Charged With Tax Evasion

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Jordan, officers of the Jackson and Higley Funeral Home, Inc., at West Helena, were charged Monday with evading $2,867 in federal income taxes for the years 1956-57-58.

The Jordans posted bonds of $1,000 each in U.S. District Court. Jordan is vice president and business manager and his wife, a licensed mortician, is secretary-treasurer of the mortuary firm.

An indictment, returned by a federal grand jury last Thursday, alleges the couple listed joint net income of $3,020, $3,247 and $3,229 for the three years when actual income was $10,054, $9,087 and $8,387.

The Jordan indictment was not posted in court records until Monday under a regulation which keeps secret the names of persons indicted until an arrest is made.

Tests Start Early for AA Teams

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

"Hope springs eternal in the human breast."

"Man never is, but always to be, blessed."

Thus it is in football, though Alexander Pope probably never had that in mind when he penned his epigrams.

And hope should be high this week. Twelve Class AA teams collide in conference battles this weekend, though most AA teams will spend another week sharpening up against Class A opposition.

Malvern visits Crossville in a District 4AA battle for blood. Malvern has one victory, Crossville two.

Searcy travels to Conway, a tough test for the new entry to District 2AA.

Holena and Newport meet at Newport, both undefeated and both from District 2AA.

Fairview goes to Smackover in a battle of one-headens in District 4AA.

And four other District 3AA teams get down to brassknuckles: Russellville at Mablevale and Jacksonville at Morrilton.

In addition, a pair of good intra-district games are on tap.

They pit Jonesboro against Subiaco at Jonesboro and Camden against Benton at Benton.

For Subiaco, it will be an attempt to bounce back from a 12-0 defeat at the hands of North Little Rock last week and a stunning defensive setback, "The Wildcats of the Big Nine yielded only a mere 20 yards to Jim Collier's Trojans, and they should have lots of frustrated yardage to run out."

On the other hand, Jonesboro came out running hard in defense of its District 2AA championship and isn't expected to slow down.

The key man in the victory drive of a year ago was Tommy Sahn, and he's a speedy 200-pound line-man with all the marks of being a good one.

Jonesboro's trouble is the district is better this year than it was in 1961, but is Jonesboro?

Benton will be trying to bounce back, too, from a 41-7 shellacking by Little Rock Central's Tigers, and Camden may be the unwary victim.

Alvin Jones, the Panthers' hard-running litter didn't get to go much against the bigger Bengals, and should be a "rarin'" Camden topped Fairview, 7-0, last week.

Holena and Newport could be a telling one as far as the final standings in District 2AA are concerned. Both rank high, along with West Memphis, as contenders for Jonesboro's crown.

With six District 3AA teams in action, the championship lines could be drawn this early, barring surprises in the future.

And provided there's no tie, the Malvern and Crossville game could determine which one will be left in the title race. Camden and Hope, with a victory over Texarkana of the Big Nine, have shown signs of knowing what to do with the football—move it, man, move it.

Alarmed Over Cotton Proposal

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The head of the Arkansas Farm Bureau said Saturday he is alarmed over President Kennedy's suggestion that the cotton program be revamped to remove the "inequity" of the two-price system of cotton costs.

Harold Obendorf of Osceola, federal president, said the Kennedy administration is "taking a course ruinous to the whole cotton industry."

Wednesday night a search party heard shots fired by the pair and spotted them.

Forest rangers and Air Force rescue experts using a helicopter, ropes and rubber rafts struggled to gain entry into the virtually inaccessible gorge. Finally, Friday, two rangers and two paramedics went down the cliffs and joined McClary and Oveson on the sand bar.

The rescuers hooked up a line to a raft, put McClary and Oveson in the raft and let it float to another sandbar 500 yards downstream. There the helicopter picked them up.

Neither man was hurt except for a bruise on McClary's leg.

Fishing Fine But Was Trip Worth It?

NEWARK, Calif. (AP)—The fishing was fine but was the trip worth it?

That's the question two Newark men are pondering now that they are back safe with their families.

It started when two neighbors, John McClary and Keith Oveson, the latter an assistant principal at an elementary school in Hayward, just east of San Francisco Bay, decided to go fishing over the Labor Day weekend.

They went to the Middle Fork area of the San Joaquin River, about 65 miles east of Madera.

They spotted a deep, black pool, surrounded by rushing white water. Perfect trout water. To get there, they had to go down cliffs 1,000 feet high.

They set up camp on a sand bar. They caught trout. How many? "We were too busy eating them to keep count," Oveson said.

When it came time to go back, they found they couldn't climb back up the cliffs. They couldn't buck the stream's current and huge boulders blocked their way downstream.

A search was begun when Oveson was reported absent from school.

Wednesday night a search party heard shots fired by the pair and spotted them.

Forest rangers and Air Force rescue experts using a helicopter, ropes and rubber rafts struggled to gain entry into the virtually inaccessible gorge. Finally, Friday, two rangers and two paramedics went down the cliffs and joined McClary and Oveson on the sand bar.

Nuclear Tests to Be Resume by the U.S.

By LARRY OSIUS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has cleared the way for the resumption of atmospheric nuclear test explosions over the Pacific.

A spokesman for the Atomic Energy Commission said Monday night the tests probably will resume later this month or early in October. He indicated, however, that there probably would be no detonation until after Sept. 28, the date set for the six-orbit flight of astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr.

A joint announcement by the AEC and the Defense Department said the off-limits safety zone around and above Johnston Island in the Pacific would be reactivated Sept. 22 "in connection with the completion of the Pacific test series."

Test shots from the island were discontinued July 31 after a Thor missile bearing a nuclear warhead for high-altitude detonation was destroyed on the launch pad July 25. The AEC spokesman said the badly damaged launch area would be repaired by late this month.

The statement did not say how many tests will be conducted but said they "will include a few high-altitude events and a few in which the devices will be dropped from an airplane."

President Kennedy said at his news conference after the July 25 failure that there might be three more tests over the Pacific.

The Soviet Union broke a three-year moratorium on atmospheric nuclear tests in September 1961. The United States resumed atmospheric tests last April 25. The Soviet Union began a second round of testing on Aug. 5, although the AEC has indicated there may have been Soviet atmospheric tests before that date. The AEC has announced 10 Russian shots in the latest series.

The U.S. shots announced by the AEC included 26 in the Christmas Island area of the Pacific, mostly devices dropped from planes.

On July 9 the United States successfully triggered a nuclear device 210 miles above the ocean. Three other high-altitude test shots from Johnston Island, including the July 25 effort, failed.

dum that he was opposed to the use of force against Cuba. Fulbright said this was prior to the abortive Bay of Pigs invasion, which Castro forces crushed more than a year ago.

"How would it look to the world," Fulbright said, "if the United States, the mightiest nation on earth, would go down there and squash this poor, be-draggled little country?"

The U.S. could overrun Cuba in a matter of days, Fulbright said, but Communists would use the issue as a propaganda weapon, saying that communism would have succeeded if the U.S. had left Cuba alone.

"Why not let them fall flat on their face, like they did in China," Fulbright said. "A few years ago in China they were talking about a great leap forward. Now it's crashing down around their ears."

"I read recently that the sugar crop in Cuba, their No. 1 crop, is down almost a third this year. Now is that what you would all succeed? I certainly would not."

Fulbright said it struck him as fantastic that anyone would consider Cuba such a threat to the U.S.

Fulbright criticized Jones for making grave world situations matters of partisan politics and quoted an interview in the Sept. 6 Washington Post to back up his statements.

The article quoted Sen. Everett was not fair of either party to resort to use of a national crisis as a political weapon.

Cuban Fulbright recalled that the Cuban invasion was planned while Republican Dwight D. Eisenhower was president.

Jones went on television Monday night in Little Rock to attack Fulbright's record, and said the campaign between him and Fulbright is between constitutional government and one-world socialism.

Jones said he backed constitutional government.

Proposals to Be Made by Demos

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—An effort to strike elective titles from primary ballots and to reinstate the preferential primary system will be made at the state Democratic convention Wednesday and Thursday by the Hot Springs delegation to the meeting.

Delegates caucused Monday and agreed on the two recommendations.

They said titles were undemocratic and unfair. At present, some officeholders can use their titles and many believe the title helps.

A 1959 act which ended the preferential primary system has resulted in lack of interest in the general primary "to the detriment of election process in Arkansas," the delegation said.

Prior to the 1959 change only those races in which there were more than two candidates went on the first (or preferential) primary ballot. Two man races were withheld until the general primary. Now all contested races go on the first ballot and only those in which there is a runoff reach the second primary.

Anderson to Talk

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—The 35th annual convention of the Arkansas Telephone Association is being held this week in Hot Springs. Registration for the meeting was held Sunday. Principal speaker, on Tuesday, will be Tom Anderson, publisher of the Farm and Ranch Journal and the Arkansas Farmer.

Seek to Open Air Service

WASHINGTON, Ark. (AP)—A request for authority to operate local air service in Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, New Mexico and Mississippi with helicopters or light planes was filed with the Civil Aeronautic Board by Texas Air Xec of Houston, Tex.

Helicopter routes within 200 miles of Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio were proposed.

The application asked for air routes between:

Memphis and Houston by way of Forrest City, Ark.

Stuttgart, Pine Bluff, Camden, El Dorado and Magnolia, Ark.

New Orleans and Little Rock with Arkansas stops at El Dorado and Hot Springs.

Ex-Mayor of Marianna Dies

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP)—Robert Smith McClintock Sr., a former Marianna Mayor, died Sunday at the age of 70.

The business and civic leader was president of W. S. McClintock and Sons, Inc., a general merchandizing firm. He also was chairman of the Board of the First National Bank at Marianna and of the Lee County Memorial Hospital.

McClintock served as head of the Office of Price Administration for Marianna during World War II.

Says N. Y. Is Easy Area for Spies

NEW YORK (AP) — A former Soviet spy who defected to the United States says New York City is "an ideal stamping ground for a foreign agent."

The ex-spy, former Col. Pawel Monat, also described the Pentagon in Washington as "one of the best sources of loose talk about military subjects."

Monat operated in the United States from September 1955 to May 1958 as military attache to the Polish Embassy in Washington. He defected to the United States in the summer of 1959.

He has written an account of his espionage, "Spy in the U.S.," with John Dille. It is scheduled for publication Wednesday by Harper & Row.

Monat said that during his mission in America he made about 40 trips to New York City, "more than I made in all other cities combined."

He said "the sprawling metropolis, with its bustling traffic, crowded meeting places and throngs of United Nations delegates and other foreigners all speaking in strange accents" provides the cover necessary for spies to meet and pass along information and instructions.

The writer said "anyone from a four-star general to a 15-year-old boy, can get into the Pentagon."

"And once inside the Pentagon — though many areas are extremely well-guarded to let the joint chiefs, the intelligence staffs and the top-secret planners deliberate in privacy — anyone can roam the hallways and pause in the corridors."

He said he and his aides went there frequently "to eavesdrop on conversations."

Interstate Route Will Be Asked

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—The Pine Bluff city council has been asked to lead a delegation in presenting a proposal for a new Arkansas Interstate Route to the state Highway Department.

The plan was proposed by Clint Elliott, a past president of the National Oil Jobbers Association and former member of the Pine Bluff planning commission.

Elliott would route the proposed Interstate 40 through southern Arkansas, Mississippi, Birmingham, Ala., and Atlanta, Ga. Its current route is through Fort Smith, and Little Rock, Ark.; Memphis, Nashville and Knoxville, Tenn.

Buys Company

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—Mid-South Insurance Co., announced Saturday it has bought a controlling interest in the Jefferson Insurance Co., of Pine Bluff for $650,000. Oscar E. Chambers of Fort Smith was named president of the Jefferson firm. Chambers said the newly acquired firm would be moved to Fort Smith, but the companies will retain their corporate entities.

Monday to see Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Nations.

Mr. and Mrs. Ardell Clark went to Little Rock Sunday to meet their new granddaughter, Janice, and visit the Jack Bolls family.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lively of Texarkana visited Mr. and Mrs. Otis Lively here Sunday.

Miss Martha Ann Alexander of Miami, Fla., arrived Saturday to visit her mother, Mrs. W. R. Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Holland returned to Fayetteville Sunday night after a visit in Hope.

Mrs. Albert Graves is en route home after visiting the Hunter Long family in Philadelphia. The Long family has moved to Summit, N.J.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hatcher and Mrs. Dale Wilson went to Oklahoma City, last Saturday.

Every Reason But the Real One

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: My wife charges me with being a tyrant, miser and doubting Thomas, claiming my incessant cross-questioning is a sadistic attempt to feed what she terms is an insane and unfounded jealousy.

All this she gives to friends and family as justification for no longer loving me, not once mentioning her and the children to a friend.

Flouting my love, she pursues her wild, willful way despite her family and taken the children and my position down.

In this community. Never by word or action do I condemn her to relatives or friends, but they must guess from my haggard face that I've been living in hell since last June.

That fateful day was so beautiful. I left the office early thinking to surprise my wife by driving her and the children to a favorite country inn for dinner.

The maid said she had gone to see her wild, willful way despite her family and taken the children and my position down.

"Leastwise, that's what the Missus told me," she added.

Puzzled, I phoned my in-laws (they lived in the next town). Yes, the children had arrived that noon, according to my father-in-law, and were at an outdoor horse show with Grandma. He was vague about my wife's whereabouts.

Being one of those guys whose sense of intuition works overtime, I raced to their home, fearing the worst. They were on the patio having cocktails — my wife, her parents and sister.

My wife readily admitted her sudden flight, treating it lightly. I might as well know the truth, she said. Her love for me was dead! For the sake of the children, I would continue outwardly as before but actually she intended to go her way and I could go mine. Her parents nodded icily. She had told them of my suspicious nature, curtailment of her freedom, cross-questioning and slashing of her allowance. All lies! I was too crushed to reply. Memory of my lonely drive back to our home is a blur, but forever imprinted in my mind and heart is the contents of a letter which my wife had left for me on my study desk. There was another man!

Let's evening after a dinner of complete silence, she telephoned: impersonal, distant and master — of — fact. The children's schooling must not be interrupted. So, she and they were returning. She would sleep in the guest room!

I don't want a separation. I love her. The doctor says I'm on the verge of a nervous breakdown. My world is in shambles. What can I do? —Once There Was a Husband

Dear Once: To fall ill because you've lost your wife is understandable though not commendable. It indicates weakness of soul as well as body and could well be the reason why your wife fell out of love with you in the first place.

Dear Once: To fall ill because you've lost your wife is understandable though not commendable. It indicates weakness of soul as well as body and could well be the reason why your wife fell out of love with you in the first place.

A woman expects a man to be strong. When he isn't, she's bound to be contemptuous in her heart of hearts. Pity she may give him, but not love.

Get yourself in shape physically; then act. Lay down the law to your wife; say that as long as she bears your name and lives under your roof, she is your wife and that you, not she, will call the turns — either this or divorce and chalk the marriage up to experience. First and foremost, as a man you must be the aggressor!

Dear Helen: What would you do with a son who didn't know his mother was alive? I've worked hard and long alone to raise and send him through school; so hard that I developed epilepsy at the age of 32. He married before finishing his tour of duty in the Service, put himself through college, got a Masters degree and moved to another state with his family.

His wife wrote three months ago, just a noncommittal letter, that's all. They have four cute children whom we dearly love. I'm much improved in health now and would so like to have news of my boy and his family. Could he be ashamed of me because I'm considered an epileptic? If his stepfather isn't ashamed, why should my own son be? Please tell me what to do.

Broken-hearted Mother: Your son's attitude is a mirroring of your own. So long as you feel put upon or persecuted, he will react as he does. Self-evaluation counts heavily. Be proud of the fact that you were able to put him through school.

Hold your head high. Work never killed anyone — least of all epileptics. According to the United Epilepsy Association, work is a great panacea, that and anti-vulcan drugs. The harder you work, the better. It steps up the circulation, takes your mind off yourself and broadens your outlook.

But, according to the U.E.A., epilepsy manifests itself early in life. To develop it at 32 is practically impossible. Check with the best neurologist you can find.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful leaflets available. Write for "Mother Complex."

Missile Subs to Be Based at Guam

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy announced today it will base Polaris missile submarines at Guam, strategically located in the mid-Pacific about 1,800 miles from Red China.

The announcement gave no date for moving the nuclear-powered subs into the Pacific, but the Navy time table reportedly calls for posting the first of them off Red China by late next year.

The action will make the Asian flank of the Communist world vulnerable to 1,400-mile range hydrogen bomb-tipped rockets carried by subs.

Each Polaris sub mounts 16 of the missiles and Adm. Roy S. Benson, Pacific sub force commander, said last June as many as 10 Polaris subs will be ranging the Pacific within two years.

The Navy announcement said that Apra Harbor at Guam will be the home port for a missile submarine tender like the Proteus which is now moored at Holy Loch in Scotland.

The Proteus serves the U.S. submarines which are on patrol in the North Atlantic within striking range of Russia and the rest of Communist Europe.

The United States now has nine Polaris subs in commission out of a planned 41.

Next year, another nine of these subs are due to join the fleet.

The Proteus is due to be replaced by a newly commissioned sub tender Hunley late this year or early next.

At that time, the Proteus would be available for possible movement into the Pacific after some overhaul work in the United States.

In addition a third sub tender, the Holland, is being built at Pascagoula, Miss. Plans call for it to be ready in about a year.

Submarine tenders are capable of any kind of sub repair work, except a major overhaul. They can service the nuclear power plants of Polaris submarines.

Foe Offers Challenge to Fulbright

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Kenneth Jones challenged the judgment of Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., in the Cuban situation today but declined to state his own views.

Jones, the Republican opponent of Fulbright in the November general election, said in a news conference he preferred to wait until Fulbright stated his positions on national matters before announcing policy.

The candidate said he was holding his comments currently to "political philosophy" but would enter specific issues as the campaign progresses.

Jones also said he has been denied equal time on the ABC television network to reply to Fulbright on remarks made on an Aug. 19 program. The network, he said, termed the program a "bona fide news interview."

He said he had been quoted as saying the greatest danger to the country was from communism within its borders, but that he had avoided the word communism and used "collectivism."

The candidate was also critical of the Kennedy administration and said the decision in the November election will be between conservatism and liberalism.

Graveyard for Autos Ruled Void

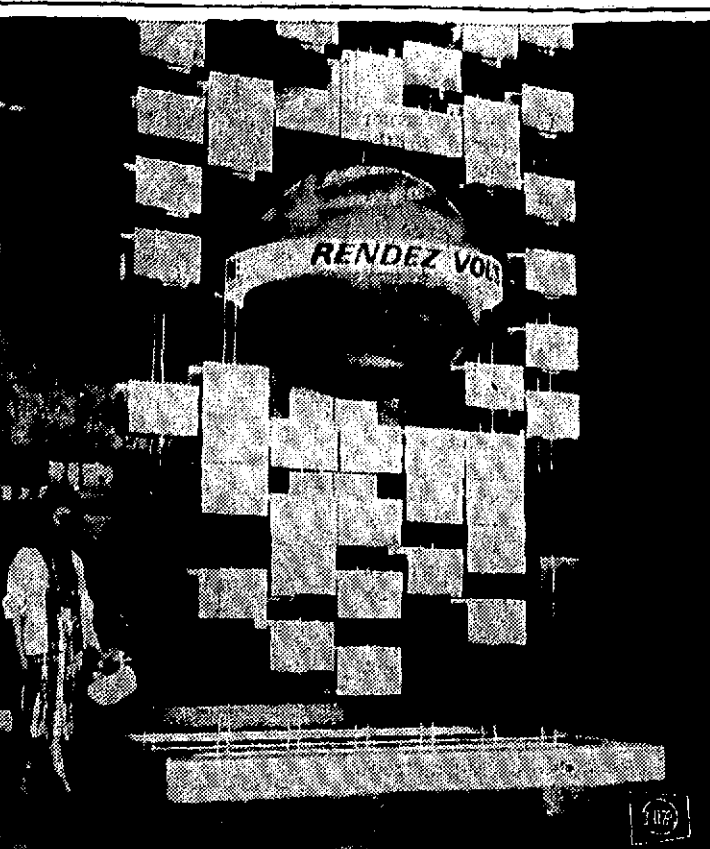

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court declared unconstitutional today a 1955 law prohibiting operation of automobile graveyards within a half-mile of a paved highway.

Reversing the decision of the Independence County Circuit Court, Justice Paul Ward said the act obviously was designed to protect the motoring public from unsightly junkyards. But, he said, the law is unreasonable and arbitrary in that it does not afford operators an opportunity to protect their businesses.

Richard D. Bachman of Batesville appealed the case from the Circuit Court. He had been convicted in Batesville Municipal Court for maintaining a wrecking yard within 500 feet of Highway meeting, called after the association's defective William Ivey was convicted of murder and sentenced to hang. Afterwards the young lawman is offered a job. Banker-Cattleman Stephen Pendergrass suggests Youngblood might be the next sheriff if he sides with the cattlemen trying to free Ivey.

VIII

The sheriff was sitting in his office with both boots propped up on his desk. The sight struck Youngblood as funny.

"What did you find out?" the sheriff said, lowering his feet. "And what's so funny?"

"I was just thinkin' about the offer of a job I got."

"Whereabouts?"

"Carroll County. Mr. Pendergrass says he doesn't think you can handle the job, and he'll back me when election times comes around."

"Yeah? You'll do what?"

"Well, that's the hitch." Youngblood said, still laughing. "I've got to quit my deputy job and go to work for him first."

"The way things look right now," the sheriff said, "I may back you myself. Let's go up to the judge's office. I'd like him to hear everything you've got to say."

"I really haven't got much to report."

When Youngblood had recited all that he could remember about the Cattleman's Association meeting, he told the judge about Stephen Pendergrass' offer, and the judge got a kick out of it.

"I imagine my brother is also planning to back someone else for district judge."

"Andy said a stranger hanging around the hotel, Judge," the sheriff said, and as Youngblood agreed, "Tough looking hombre with a long stringy mustache. Andy thought he was a gunshiner. Didn't look like a cowpoke."

The judge sobered. "Well, it has occurred to me that some of the ranchers might bring in gunmen. But what would he be doing on main street?"

"Might have been looking over the bank," said the sheriff.

Youngblood came back from supper to serve early guard duty at the jail. He went upstairs to get Ivey's supper tray and see that everything was all right. The prisoner was lying with his bare feet propped against the bars, fussing as usual. "When are you going to let me out there in the hall where I can get a little exercise?"

"August the first," Youngblood said.

Youngblood, you sure are a funny man. I wish you was laying in here and could see yourself out there."

"If I was in there," the deputy said, "I would probably be praying instead of raising cane."

"You probably would, Youngblood. You're real funny in that way. This whole town is funny. Comanche Wells? You know something? There never was a Comanche that had a well. They take their water where they find it, and if they don't find any they go without. It was the padres who built the well. It wasn't even a well in the first place; just a seep with some rocks stacked up around it. And if that ain't funny enough for you, the thing wasn't here; it was three miles up Seedy Creek."

"How do you know so much about it?" the deputy asked.

"I been through this country long before this funny town was built. I was tried and sentenced to die right about here 20 years ago, by a bunch of savages that knew how to try a man so's it would scare the living daylight out of him. They left this half-breed buddy of mine with an arrow through him and his scalp lifted and him still alive, laying out on the prairie, just laying there with his bloody head in the dirt. And they brought me down to the creek and tied me to a cottonwood tree. Well, the whole blooming night they argued over me. They was one big buck that wanted to target practice on me with their arrows and lances. They didn't have any guns. Then a younger buck, a chief's boy, wanted to stake me out naked in the sun or drag me behind their ponies. They argued the whole blessed night. When morning came, they sighted a herd of buffalo, and left me tied to that cottonwood. Well, it got along in the morning and I began to sweat on that rawhide and spit on it and finally slipped loose.

"They're a real ugly bunch, Kiowas, and they look worse to a man tied up like that and knowing what they're arguing about. But I got out of there, Youngblood, and you know how many Kiowas has paid me back for that night? Plenty. After going through that Kiowa trial I figure this whiteman trial is kind of a joke. I got me a ace in the hole, and I'm going to get out of here like I done before. Only thing that ain't funny about it is what I aim to do to everybody that don't treat me right."

Lopez, Mantle Carry Yanks to Victory

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

More room at the top for the New York Yankees after No. 400 by Mickey Mantle, a hit when it counted most by slumping Hector Lopez, and a masterful performance by a young pitcher for a rival contender.

Mantle, back in action in the American League battle following a six-game layoff with an injured side, belted the 400th home run of his 12-year career Monday night to pull the Yankees even in their close one with the Detroit Tigers and Lopez drove across the winner with the first hit in his last 23 at bats, a ninth-inning single. End result: a 3-1 New York victory.

An infield single kept Dean Chance from registering a no-hitter for the third-place Los Angeles Angels over Minnesota's runnerup Twins. The 21-year-old right-hander turned the Twins away without a hit until there was one out in the eighth inning. Then Zoilo Versalles, lashed a hard one up the middle which Jim Fregosi raced over to spear, but his throw to first was late and wild, permitting Versalles to reach second.

It went as an unquestioned hit, the only one Minnesota got. End result: a 5-0 Los Angeles victory.

Also in the American League, Baltimore nipped Boston 2-1 on Dick Williams' 12th inning pinch hit and Chicago edged Kansas City 4-3. Cleveland and Washington were not scheduled.

In the National League, Los Angeles maintained its half-game lead by whipping Chicago 8-1, runner-up San Francisco stayed right behind with a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh. Cincinnati overcame St. Louis 4-3 in 11 innings and Milwaukee beat New York 5-2. Philadelphia and Houston were idle.

Williams' pinch single pinned a tough loss on Boston's Earl Wilson, who gave the Orioles only five hits before being nailed in the 12th. Dave Nicholson led off the winning rally with a single, Hobie Landrith walked and Mickey McGuire was safe on a fielder's choice, loading the bases and setting the stage for Williams' clincher.

Ray Herbert, veteran right-hander nearing the end of his finest season in the majors, won his 16th in the White Sox' narrow decision over the Athletics. Herbert was touched for 10 hits and had a rocky seventh inning, when the A's got all their runs, but went all the way.

3 Large Gaps Listed by Coach Broyles

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Three large gaps must be filled if Arkansas is to make a successful bid for a fourth straight Southwest Conference title, Coach Frank Broyles said Monday.

Talking for newsmen at Razorback Press Day, Broyles said the secondary defense must improve, he must find some pass snagging ends and halfbacks and he must dig up some backfield speed.

Specifically, Broyles said: Secondary defense: "I'm worried about the defensive halfbacks and the safety. A mistake at those three deep positions can beat you faster than anything." (Broyles' last halfbacks Harold Horton and Darrell Williams and safety George McKinney.)

Pass catching: Lance Alworth, Paul Dudley and Jim Collier (all departed) accounted for 600 of the 700 yards we gained passing last year. Gary Howard (a converted guard) and Jim John are developing into pretty good receivers. Neither is as nifty as Collier, but John is faster."

Backfield speed: "We just don't have a breakout runner." (Alworth and Dudley were the 1961 speedsters.)

But all is not dark. Broyles said this year's line will be larger without sacrificing quickness and he remarked:

"The (Southwest Conference championship) race will be between four teams. I don't know who the other three are."

Did that mean he feels Arkansas has a chance?

"I hope I should be able to feel that," he replied.

Broyles said Danny Brabham, a pre-season all-star pick at tackle, definitely will play fullback this season. Broyles gave evidence of his confidence in Brabham by listing him among five Razorback players the coach thinks have a chance at all-conference honors.

The others are quarterback Billy Moore, John, guard Ray Trail and tackle Jerry Mazzanti.

Broyles said three graduates from last year's unbeaten freshman team appear ready for varsity roles on the first two units—linebacker Ronnie Caveness, nose guard Mike Hales and quarterback Bill Gray.

Runs — Pearson, Los Angeles,

Gray, the third string signal caller for the frosh, has improved so much, Broyles said, that he would be the starting quarterback today if the Hogs had to play a game without Moore.

Freddy Marshall, expected to be the man behind Moore, missed spring drills because of an injury and is behind on mechanics.

Lack of speed at halfback has forced Broyles to shift to a quarterback-fullback offense this year.

"We'll also probably pass more," he said. The Razorbacks will concentrate, he said, on quick passes for short gains. They can't count on the big pitches as last year when Alworth, Dudley and Collier averaged 17 yards a catch.

After the players posed for pictures and talked with newsmen, Broyles took them on the practice field for a two-hour workout on fundamentals and play polishing.

Afterward, he was less optimistic.

"It was worse than the typical Monday workout," he said.

formance. The Yankees, in a rare display of emotion — for them — whooped it up in their clubhouse after eking out a 3-1 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

It opened their American league lead to 3 1/2 games over Minnesota, which lost.

Manager Ralph Houk puffed his cigar happily and smiled broadly, leaving the impression for visitors that the pennant race is nearing its end.

"Any ball club would be better with Mantle in the lineup," said Houk. "Not just ours. Sure, we're a lot better with him in there. But you don't win pennants on the play of just one man. The key to the race is what the other guys do."

But it was apparent the other Yankees play better with Mantle in there. They didn't seem like the club that played .500 ball during the six games Mantle missed since last Tuesday and lost a Sunday double header to eighth-place Boston.

Four Players Appear to Be Key in National

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

From among an exclusive circle of four players—Tommy Davis, Maury Wills, Willie Mays and Frank Robinson — likely will emerge the locksmith with the key to the National League throne.

Each of the quartet, making a strong bid for Most Valuable Player honors, but on outstanding performances Monday as Los Angeles, San Francisco and Cincinnati all won and remained 1-2-3 in that tight struggle for NL supremacy.

Davis hit a grand slam homer and wound up with five runs batted in as the first-place Dodgers walloped the Chicago Cubs 8-1, remaining a half-game in front of second-place San Francisco and 5 1/2 ahead of third-place Cincinnati.

Wills continued his assault on Ty Cobb's stolen base record. The swift Dodger shortstop pilfered three, running his total to 89—only seven short of the record established by the Detroit Hall of Famer in 1915.

Mays, the majors' home run leader, hit No. 43 in the first inning as the Giants got off to a quick start against Pittsburgh and held it all the way behind Billy O'Dell's five-hit pitching for a 4-1 triumph.

Robinson, last year's MVP, provided the defending champion Reds with a 4-3 decision over St. Louis by tagging his second homer of the game and 36th of the season in the 11th inning while raising his batting average to a league-leading .341.

In the NL's only other game, home runs by Ed Mathews and Hank Aaron powered Milwaukee to a 5-2 decision over the New York Mets. Houston and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

In the American League, the first-place New York Yankees whipped Detroit 3-1, the third-place Los Angeles Angels defeated second-place Minnesota 5-0 on Dean Chance's one-hitter, Baltimore edged Boston 2-1 in 12 innings and the Chicago White Sox nipped Kansas City 4-3. Cleveland and Washington were not scheduled.

Davis, who went 1-for-3 and dropped into second place in the batting race with a .339 mark, provided the Dodgers with the big blow—a bases full homer in the third inning off Cubs' starter Dick Ellsworth (8-18) that built their

Porker QB Has Rib Cracked

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Quarterback Billy Moore of the Arkansas Razorbacks learned Monday he has a cracked rib and he took the tidings as good news.

Moore, hurt in practice last week, thought he had a pulled muscle.

"A pulled muscle might never heal during a football season," Moore said. "A cracked rib should be all right in a week."

The injured spot, Moore said, remains tender, but he expects to be knocking again when the Razorbacks start intensive preparation later this week for their opening foe, Oklahoma State. The cracked rib is on Moore's right side.

Another bit of good news in the Arkansas camp Monday was the return to the squad of Ken Dean, a promising fullback candidate from Gillett.

Dean quit the squad last week for personal reasons. No explanation was offered for his decision to return.

edge to 5-0. Don Drysdale (24-7) allowed only three hits until Manager Walt Alston decided to give him a rest after eight innings and brought in Jack Smith to finish up. Davis' RBI spurge gave him a 137 total, 11 more than runner-up Robinson. Mays has 123.

Wills made it 13 stolen bases in the last five games with his three steals against the Cubs. He has 17 games in which to tie or surpass Cobb, who stole 96 on a 156-game schedule. The Dodgers have played 145 games.

Mays connected off Harvey Haddix (9-6) with Felipe Alou aboard in the first inning and that was all O'Dell (17-12) needed as he went the route for the 18th time.

Robinson drove in three of the four Reds' runs, starting his heroics with a second-inning homer, then sending Vada Pinson home with a single in the fourth before providing the game-winner in the 11th with a homer off Cardinals starter Ernie Broglio (11-8). The Cards had tied it in the eighth on Gene Oliver's homer off Joe Nuxhall.

Mathews broke a 2-2 tie with a one-on homer in the seventh and Aaron followed with his 39th for the Braves. The two homers made it 185 against the Mets this season, tying the NL record set by St. Louis in 1955.

Australian 2nd Grand Slam Winner

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Rod (Grand Slam) Laver of Australia sat back today and waited for the professional tennis offers to roll in while he decides what he's worth in dollars and cents.

"But," he said, "right now I'm interested in the Davis Cup and I definitely won't consider any professional contracts until the challenge round in December."

Laver became the second man to score the coveted grand slam—Australian, French, Wimbledon and United States championships—when he whipped his Aussie Davis Cup mate, Roy Emerson, 6-2, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, under cheerless, gray skies at the West Side Tennis Club for the U.S. title Monday.

Only the great Don Budge had managed to pull off the coup before. Budge did it in 1938.

So, as has become the custom, an Australian won the U.S. title for the seventh straight year. Tony Trabert, in 1955, was the last American to win it. In fact, he was the last native-born finalist.

That was hardly unexpected. But now new troubles loom in the women's division. Margaret Smith, a tall, 20-year-old blonde from Melbourne, also took the women's crown Down Under when she defeated two-time defender Darlene Hard of Long Beach, Calif., 9-7, 6-4 in the women's final.
